CONFERENCE OF LIBERTY STAKE

People Urged to Keep the Commandments Given Them and To Pay Their Debts.

THEIR FAITH MUST INCREASE

speaker Advises a Reading of the Scriptures That Knowledge of Spiritual Things May Grow.

Faith was the subject of Elder F. Richards' remarks, while Elder J. Golden Kimball spoke of the race for riches and warned the saints to keep out of debt, these two speakers eccupying the entire time at the afternoon session of the quarterly conference of the Liberty stake, held at the tabernacle Sunday afternoon, with a large congregation in attendance.

Stake President Hugh J. Cannon was in charge of the services. The choir sang the hymn, "For the strength of the hills we bless Thee." Prayer was offered by Elder Frederick Michelson. The choir sang the anthem, "How manifold are Thy works."

ELDER GEORGE F. RICHARDS.

Elder George F. Richards said we believe in God, the Eternal Father, and in his son Jesus Christ, and in the Holy We believe in the Scriptures, and it is through faith that they are The principles laid down in the Scriptures are eternal, indestructible. We believe the Lord created the heavens, the earth and the seas for his children. We are indeed his chilgren, not in the flesh, but in the spirit, We believe Jesus was the first born of the Father, but that does not refer to his temporal, physical birth, but spirhis tempria. Physical Barriers in a construction in the construction of the constructi ere placed upon earth with the power exercise our free agency. We have ced before us both good and evil nd we are permitted to choose for our and we are permitted to choose for ourselves, and we shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body. But he will help and direct us in nameless ways, by good and kind influences, but God expects us to honor him, believe in him and trust him. Without this belief in and expectation of God, it is impossible for us to obtain salvation at his hands, and there is no other way of salvation. The Scriptures tell us without faith it is salvation at his hands, and there is no other way of salvation. The Scriptures tell us without faith it is impossible to please God. He has done so much for us in creating this world of ours, with everything made beautiful, atractive and comfortable, with the grasses, the fruits, the grains, necessary for man and It was for a wise purpose that we

It was for a wise purpose that we were intelligent, mature beings before we came here upon this earth.

We must have faith. It was sufficient for Adam to know the will of God for him to offer sacrifices. He did not ask the whys and wherefores This is a good example of faith for us. Here is a lesson to be learned of the Lord. We should read the Scriptures, and then go do the will of the Lord. and then go do the will of the Lord.

After Jesus arose from the tomb he appeared to his disciples and talked to them, saying blessed are they who believe, but have not seen. The things of God are known by the Spirit of God. of God are known by the Spirit of God, and we may obtain that spirit by complying with the laws. Faith is a gift of God. The way of life is clearly marked out. If we seek the Lord, we shall surely find him. But how can people expect to find him if they continue to put forth efforts to disprove him? Truth is never obtained in that If you lack wisdom, ask and it is given you. That is the promise, do not read the holy Scriptures h, we are not sufficiently familith them. We have been comto read the Scriptures. Such will produce faith. The things are known only by the Spirit Those with the Holy Ghost f God. Those with the Holy Ghost re in a position to read aright. It is of every one who possesses the Holy host. That is a most precious gift of God. When we have that spirit we had aright, understand aright. But makers are also needed. Faith comes we hearing, and hearing by the word God. If we have faith in our hearts, here the servants of the Lord speak waitherity and the gift and power the Holy Ghost we may learn of the ay of salvation.

st have faith in the true gos-Redeemer. It is beyond the man to devise ways by which power of man to devise ways by which man can be saved in the kingdom of fod. How many thousand such have failed. There is but one way to eternal life and celestial glory, and that way the Lord has marked out, the gospel of Jesus Christ, the gospel as revealed through Joseph Smith in this dispensation, the gospel as taueth today by the Latter-day Saints. This is not for Latter-day Saints alone. No. I hope our hearts are all large enough to rach out to all the world; they are our brothers and sisters. The great missionary work we are doing shows our stand, in this respect. We are annually expending $2,000,000 in preaching the gospel abrond. We are building temples, going into them, doing work for ourselves and our kindred dead. This is an eternal plan, and no man can chance. business and our kindred dead. It is an eternal plan, and no man c change it, or affect it one lota. I matter what his place, no act of leah in any way nullify the doctrine can in any way nullify the doctrine of heaven, or render unnecessary a single codinance of the gospel of our Redeemer. By searching the Scriptures, by hearing these things, by seeking after them to know if they are of God, with sincerity of purpose, and seeking after further light, God will make it all plain to us. Jesus said if any man shall do my will he shall know of the doctrine. And by the power of the Holy Ghoat we shall know truth from error. If we have sufficient faith God will not require of us that which we will not gladly do. But believing and accepting alone will not save us; we must do the things God requires if we shall choical the promised salvation.

The Liberty stake male chorus rendered. The Liberty stake male chorus ren-tered "Awake, my Soul."

ELDER J. GOLDEN KIMBALL. Elder J. Golden Kimball said in part:
It is our duty to teach the people
good principles; then let them govern inemselves. I think we can safely say there is no community outside of Gergany that is as well and completely organized as the Church of Jesus thrist of Latter-day Saints. It is possible to quickly reach any part of the Latter-day Saints from Canada to Mexico and secure a good understanding of the reputation of any man, woman or child. At the time of the San Francisco disaster the Relief society of the Latter-day Saints rendered quicker service than any other organization in the United States.
We believe in spiritual salvation:
that all the children of men will be awed, except the sons of perdition. It takes a longer time to save some people than others, because they refuse to keep the commandments.
The statement was once made that Elder J. Golden Kimball said in part The statement was once made that | 8013-X.

"when the time should come that a man standing on the street corner of Salt Lake City could not tell a gentile from a Mormon, then to look out for trouble." I tell you, in the name of Israel's God, it has come. We are not being persecuted now. We have with us an intelligent, a magnanimous people, and many understand what the Mormon people have done toward makin" this country what it is today. What is our trouble then? One great trouble is we are trying too hard to get rich. We have not time to get rich; we have too many labors and duties as Latter-day Saints. I tell you, Saints, if you do not work at your duies you will not believe; you will become careless, indifferent. You Latter-day Saints cannot compete with men who work all night and ail day at their business, so you must cut out this idea of riches.

ter-day Saints cannot compete with men who work all night and ail day at their business, so you must cut out this idea of riches.

Another trouble with Latter-day Saints is we are getting into debt. When you get into debt there will come trouble; there will come a panic, and friends are hard to find in such an hour. When you are receiving wages is a good time to pay your debts and release your mortgages.

Another trouble: We are a people who believe in recreation. The Sait Lake theater stands as a mounment to this claim. But now the young people this claim. But now the young people have reached a state it is difficult to restrain them. Go to the mountains, the resorts—they are crowded with Latter-day Saints. You should restrain your children.

Strain your children.

Some are selling their homes and going to Mexico and other distant parts, where they picture a garden of Eden, where all you have to do is to lie under a banana tree and pick bananas. If that is true, why don't they keep their lands themselves?

their lands themselves?

Latter-day Saints, keep the commandments. There is nothing in Mormonism that teaches you to do wrong; there is nothing in the gospel that does not teach you to be honest and keep out of cebt. Then you will die happy. The choir sang an anthem. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Milando Pratt.

MORNING SESSION

The regular quarterly conference of Liberty stake Sunday, April 24, at 10 a.m. in Assembly hall, was opened by the male chorus singing "Awake My Soul." Prayer was offered by Patriarch Joseph Warburton. The service was seph Warburton. The service was ntinued by the male chorus singing. continued by the male chorus singing, "Just Beyond." President Arnold H. Schulthess of the stake presidency welcomed the saints to the conference and said it was a very great pleasure to see so many present. He presented the general and stake authorities, all of whom were unanimously sustained. Elder Schulthess said that we should be thankful in our hearts for the gospel of Jesus Christ and that we have been permitted to receive it and obtain the blessings derived from it. He the blessings derived from it. He spoke of the blessed condition we live in—in comparison with conditions in some parts of the world. Wherever the Latter-day Saints are located we are blessed with plenty and none of us need suffer for want of the necessaries of life. He exhorted the saints not to need suffer for want of the necessaries of life. He exhorted the saints not to forget the Lord in their prosperity, but to serve him and keep his commandments. He said we should not seek so much for the things of this world, but to store up treasures in heaven. Elder John Robinson sang a solo, "The conversion of St. Paul."

President B. S. Hinckley of the stake presidency said it was very gratifying presidency said it was very gratifying to see so many present. There were by actual count nearly 1.390 people present. He said he hoped that the present. He said he hoped that the saints would not forget the Lord for temporal things, but said that we must also look out for our temporal welfare. He said that a man's not of much use to the Church, to himself or any one else who has debts hanging about his neck. He thought this is a time when living is high. The people are seeking pleasure and they are inclined to be extravagant. He urged the people to pay their debts and keep out of debt. He also spoke of the importance of saving something from their earnings. He said it was a principle ance of saving something from their earnings. He said it was a principle of savagery to use up everything that comes in. The first thousand dollars is the hardest to save. After that is saved it is easier to get another thousand. He said the Latter-day Saints saved considerable by observing the Word of Wisdom. More money is spent for pleasure in this city then in any for pleasure in this city than in any other of its size in the United States. We have a greater percentage of people owning their own homes than any other place in the world.

Elder Robert H. Siddoway sang a solo, "O Loving Father."

J. Golden Kimball of the First council of seventy spoke of the great importance of keeping out of debt, for, said he, "Debt is hell." He warned the people as a servant of God that if they wanted to retain their inheritance and keep their homes they must keep out of debt. He spoke of the danger of over speculation. He said people look up to the man who has money, but that money does not count with the Lord. It is the root of all evil. He urged the parents to look after their children and know where they are at night, teaching them right principles at all times. J. Golden Kimball of the First council

The male chorus sang, "Nearer to Thee."

George F. Richards of the quorum of apostles said that a very interesting session of the conference had been held so far. Said he understood an effort had been made to get 20 per cent of the stake population in attendance. There were by actual count 16.2 per cent present, and all of the Sunday schools of the stake were in session. He thought this was an excellent showing. He said that if we would look into the records of these people for work in the temple, attendance at meetings, etc., we will find that they are doing their duty. They are keeping the Word of Wisdom and, the commandments of God generally. He said that the Lord had instituted a plan whereby mankind will be saved. All of the faithful Latter-day Saints know that this work is true, that is why they are faithful and true and cannot be led astray. He spoke of the importance of our keeping out of debt by living within our income.

President Hugh J. Cannon expressed his appreciation for the excellent music furnished by the male chorus under the leadership of Elder Oscar Kirkham.

The congregation sans, "Come, come, ye saints," and benediction was pronounced by Bishop Heber C. Iverson. The male chorus sang, "Nearer to

When the matter of refunding $298.50 to Charles S. Swaim on account of the cancelation of his saloon license comes cancelation of his saloon license comes up, it is likely to produce a spirited discussion. Swaim, who conducted a saloon at 24 west Third South street, was before the council two weeks ago to show cause why his liquor license should not be revoked after he had been arrested for violating the Sunday closing law. Swaim convinced the council that he had made a hona fide sale of the saloon to Hill & Warmack a few days previous to his violation of the law, and in order to protect the new purchasers in their license, that of Swaim was canceled instead of being revoked. The license committee recommended was canceled instead of being revoked. The license committee recommended this action and also that $298.50 of the $300 paid for the license be refunded. The council will act tonight on the mayor's veto of the report of the municipal laws committee recommending the adoption of the Holley resolution to compel the Oregon Short Line Railroad company to vacate the west 15 feet of Third West street from North Temple to Pirst South streets. This property was given to the company under a franchise for "railroad purposes," and is now using it for parking purposes. Mayor Bransford contends that the property under the use being made of it comes within the definition of "railroad purposes," and that the improvements are a benefit to the city. realroad purposes, and that the improvements are a benealt to the city.

The claim of A. Campbell for $6,859.23 on account of the wooden stave outlet pipe, recommended by the board of public works to be paid, will be considered tonight, and the matter settled after being before the council and committees for months.

FOR CLEANER GROCERIES.

Preliminary Inspection of Local Stores Shows Marked Improvement.

The first official effort toward the improvement of sanitary conditions in the groceries of Salt Lake has been made by a committee from the food and dairy department, in a preliminary inspection covering the past two weeks. The result of this inspection, according to Walter J. Frazier, food and dairy inspector, has been a gratifying one. The average score of the groceries is 70, which is a fair one, and all of the meschants show a disposition to improve things not up to the standard.

A crusade for cleaner grocery stores improvement of sanitary conditions in A crusade for cleaner grocery stores started by the civic department of the state federation of women's clubs, helped to inspire this inspection and the agitation of the question by the ladies is believed to be responsible in a large measure for the present fair condition of the groceries. In most cases the only thing necessary has been to call the attention of the merchant to any lack of sanitary methods in conducting his store, to effect an improvement. LAURA VANDAVEER GOES TO HER HOME

Freed by Federal Grand Jury, Slaver Of Private Shaunty at Fort Douglas Is to Begin Life Anew.

Miss Laura Vandaveer, the young woman who shot and killed Paul Shaunty, a private at Fort Douglas on the morning of March 16, and who was freed by the grand jury Saturday, expects to leave for her father's home at Wellington, Kansas. Wednesda Since the day of the tragedy, when the oung woman, torwired beyond en durance by the unkind treatment of the man who had wronged her, fired the shot which ended his life, she has been confined in the woman's ward at the county Jail. From the first the young woman refused to talk, but it was plain that she was wrought up by the conduct of the man which made her partially irresponsible for the deed. The charges made that the man had also beaten her, seem also to be well founded, and the grounds upon which the grand jury freed ner y ignoring her y ignoring her case, would seem to a well defined case of self defense be a well defined case of sent feeting.

That the case was thoroughly investigated by the grand jury there is no room for doubt. It is under stood that it was shown how upon the importunities of the woman riage license. How he mistreated her, and failed to make good his promise to make her his wife, for there was no return made on the marriage license, Shaunty's ill treatment continued up to the day of his death, and he is said to have struck her that morning, and threatened to attack her again when she selzed the revolver and fred four shots, three entering his and fired four shots, three entering his and fired four shots, three entering his body and one going into the door. When Miss Vandaveer was inform-ed of the action of the grand jury in ignoring her case and setting her free, she almost collapsed. She was en-gaged in cleaning her cell when Deputy United States Marshai Lucian Smyth came to the jail and told her Smyth came to the jail and told her she was a free woman. She was taken out into the air and soon revived, and left the jail on the arm of Deputy Marshal Smyth, going to the federal building, where she was met by Captain Willis Uline, in whose house at Fort Douglas the shooting occurred.

Miss Vandaveer after being released tent to a restaurant where she observed.

Miss Vandayeer after being released went to a restaurant, where she obtained refreshment, after which she went to the home of a friend at Thirteenth East and First South streets, to await tidings from her father at Wellington, Kan, She expects to receive money for her journey from her father today or tomorrow, and will leave for the east on Wednerder.

Sentiment at Fort Douglas is em-phatic as to the justice of the grand jury's action in releasing Miss Vandaveer. The young woman appeared before the grand jury and told her story, and re-enacted the scene of the fatal day. Witnesses from the fort fatal day. Witnesses from the fort were examined, among them being captain Willis Uline, who employed the young woman as cook, Theodore MacConnell, Mrs. Ralph D. Grow, Charles H. Scott, E. E. A Mother Who Lost a Fortune in a Pair of Child's Rompers

Some ten years ago a New England mother of inventive mind designed for her small children a play garment which she called rompers. Soon her neighbors, then her neighbor's neighbors besieged her for patterns—so she asked her husband, who was superintendent of an overall factory, to have the pattern maker cut her a hundred from the one she gave him. This coming under the observation of the proprietor of the business, he shrewdly reasoned that a garment so popular in a small circle would certainly be in demand elsewhere if introduced, so made up a line of samples for each of his traveling men. Two years later a large additional factory was erected—which has since been doubled in size—to take care of his great business.

Today there are some twenty manufacturers of similar garments, and they all call them "rompers." Mad this mother taken the precaution of having this work coverighted and protected as her property this word "romper" itself would be worth to her at least $100,000—probably double that amount.
